I want to remove elements of the form list. This is what I am doing to remove items from form list but it does not works. var data = ids.map(function (i) { return { id : i, text : "mytext" }; }); $.each(data, function (i, element) { $("#removeBtn").add("#formlist").append(element); }); And this is the HTML: Remove And that is how I am trying to remove the item: $('#removeBtn').click(function () { var item = $(this).closest('li').remove(); console.log(item); $("#formlist").listview("refresh"); return false; }); Any ideas? A: You can remove the elements by passing the id of the li element. Also, your code above works as long as your li element has a class of your-id. $.each(ids, function (i, element) { $("#formlist").listview("refresh"); $("#removeBtn").remove("#formlist").append(element.id); }); Andre Drummond, Dwight Howard, Blake Griffin, Carmelo Anthony and Chandler Parsons have either sat out the postseason or logged limited minutes after joining Team USA at the FIBA World Cup.
